What's Hatching At Blodgett Crossing

Local Boy Raises A Dragon

6th grader Jeremy Thatcher ran into S.H. Elives magic shop. He was hiding from Mary Lou, who was trying to kiss him. He bought a colorful ball that turned out to be a dragon egg. He went home and followed the dragon hatching directions. So at midnight he hatched a dragon. The dragon was beautiful with bright red scales. Jeremy named her Tiamat.

Jeremy had his hands full with raising Tiamat. It was extra hard because Jeremy had to keep her a secret. He had lots of responsibilities. He had to feed her lots of food. When she was really little she slept in Jeremy's sock drawer. When she grew very big she slept in Jeremy's barn. Every day before school, Jeremy would shut his bedroom door, to keep Tiamat safe from the other animals. He also had to learn how to communicate with her, which was done by creating pictures in their minds. Jeremy loved Tiamat very much.

Finally it was midsummer night, the day that Tiamat had to go. So Jeremy took Tiamat to the place that he was supposed to. He had brought the baby teeth, egg shell, and shed skins he had saved. These things were needed to make the portal. Jeremy was very sad to see her go, but he knew she had to because she would die if she stayed. One night after Tiamat had left, as Jeremy went to sleep he felt a swirl of color in his head. He realized that he could still communicate with Tiamat even though she was in dragon world and he was in earth.

Veterinarian's Son Loves To Draw

Jeremy Thatcher loves to draw. He is such a good artist that his art teacher is jealous of him. His father is a veterinarian. His hospital is in his house. Jeremy helps his dad take care of the animals. Jeremy loves animals. He keeps gerbils, mice, hamsters, and guinea pigs in his bedroom. He makes sure they always have lots of food and water.

Jeremy hatched and raised a dragon. For years Jeremy had been looking forward to entering the art contest, but his dragon made it so he wasn't aloud to enter. Jeremy and his dragon communicated with colors, which showed up in Jeremy art pictures. That made him a better artist.

Old Man Sold Dragon Egg

Mr. Elives is a storekeeper. His store is called S.H. Elives magic shop. He sells lots of interesting things such as, a human skull, a collection of Chinese rings, and a beautiful dragon egg. During the school year, he sold the dragon egg to Jeremy. He also gave Jeremy directions on how to hatch it.

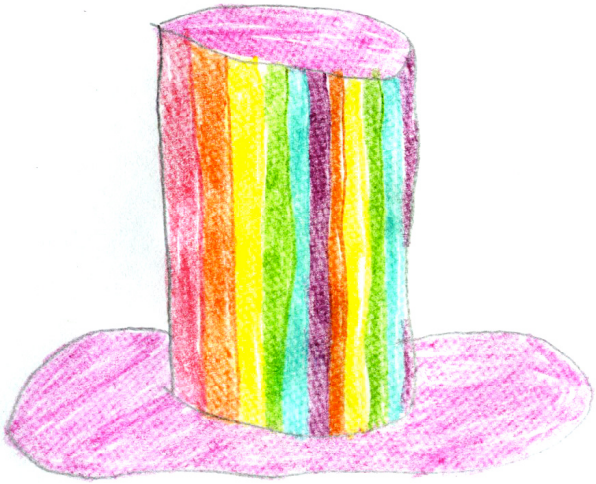

Mr. Elives can make his shop disappear and reappear. He made it reappear on midsummer night. On that night Jeremy took his dragon to the shop. Mr. Elives helped make the portal for Jeremy's dragon. When the portal was made, it was time for Jeremy's dragon to go. Jeremy wouldn't let go of her. So Mr. Elives had to make him let go. Mr. Elives saved Jeremy's dragon.

Sister Surprise

After Jeremy left the portal, he was very sad. He ran all the way home, into his bedroom. He cried and cried until he saw something shining on his desk. He wiped his eyes and realized that it was a pair of brightly colored eggs. He was shocked. He thought that raising one dragon was hard enough, but two! Then he saw some fine print on the jar, it read, Sisters of Tiamat. He was happy and so surprised. He couldn't wait until they hatched.
