DR. G.H. WRIGHT, 71, DIES AT RESIDENCE[1]

Proprietor of Sanitarium to Be Buried Tomorrow Morning.

Dr. George Herdman Wright, 71 years old, for many years a practicing homeopathic physician in nearby Maryland and the District, and proprietor of the Carroll Spring Sanitarium, Forest Glen, Md., died at his residence at the sanitarium Sunday.

Funeral services will be conducted at his late residence tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Interment will be in Rock Creek Cemetery.

Dr. Wright retired from active practice about eight years ago, after having practiced for nearly 40 years. A native of Cleveland, Ohio, Dr. Wright was the son of William Wallace Wright and Mrs. Elanor Herdman Wright. He father was for many years a well known figure in real estate and banking circles in the National Capital.

---

[1] Obituary of Dr. George Herdman Wright, from Washington Star (?), from archives of Katherine Jane (Wilson) Mooneyham. Transcribed to computer 7/20/96 by Eric F. (Rick) Wilson.
Handwritten note on side, in pencil (hard to read): "Washington Star - Tues. July 22, 1930. This was the best clipping."

Winning honors for scholastic standing, Dr. Wright was given a scholarship to Cornell University, where he was graduated in 1882. Subsequently, he was graduated in medicine at the old Columbia College, now George Washington University. He received a degree also from e School of Homeopathy of the Hanneman Medical School, Chicago.

Dr. Wright founded the Carroll Spring Sanitarium and had been proprietor since. He and his family resided there.

Prominent in a number of organizations, Dr. Wright was a past master of Kensington Lodge of Masons and was a 32d-degree Scottish Rite Mason. He was past high priest of the Maryland Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, and a knight of the Royal Order of Scotland. For seven consecutive terms Dr. Wright was the president of the Washington Lodge, American Theosophical Society.

Dr. Wright is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jessie W. Wright; three sons, Wallace W. Wright of this city, George V. Wright of New York and Frederick W. Wright of Knoxville, Tenn.; two daughters, Mrs. Lewis Wright of Detroit, and Mrs. Dawson Trundle of Forest Glen, Md.; a sister, Mrs. Louise Perkins of Alexandria, Va., and two brothers, Prescott Wright of Springfield, Ill, and William W. Wright of Barcroft, Va.